Coat-of-Arms

A full coat-of-arms consists of shield, a helmet, and a crest. The different designs, including color, had a meaning in most cases, closely related to the family history, or its rank in the life of the community.

Seals with coat-of-arms were first used some 800 years ago. The one used in this booklet is perhaps the oldest and most used one by the English forefathers of the American Selby families.

Description

Arms - Barry of light and sable.

Crest - A Saracen's head properly wreathed about the temples or sable.

Motto - "Semper Sapit Suprema" translated, "Is always supremely wise."

Full descriptions are long and very complex. All large public libraries have books on herald and similar subjects.

Dedication

To these hardy people who packed their meager belongings in a sea chest, boarded sailing ships for a foreign country which offered freedom and fertile land for themselves and their children; to these hardy folks who within a period of a few years again collected their household goods and tools, loaded them in covered wagons, headed westward across the mountains for homesteads on the fertile plains and valleys of the Middle West; we the children of the fifth, sixth, seventh, and the eighth generation do dedicate this history to the Selby family.

PREFACE

This preface is somewhat different from those usually found in books and other published material for I am not the author, the publisher, or a professional colleague, only the author's brother. I am sure I speak for all the Selbys who will find this family history interesting and informative. I know that all of us are pleased that we have in one place a consecutive story of the Selbys from their arrival many years ago from England to a new country on the west shores of the North Atlantic up to the present time. Most of us have been content and optimistic enough to think that some day this genealogy would be written, but only Forest Selby had the desire and determination to follow through to its completion.

I am most appreciative to my brother who spent long hours writing letters, studying court records of births, marriages, deaths, and wills; and visiting old cemeteries to find dates on headstones half hidden by the growth of unpruned foliage. This has been real work but most rewarding to the genealogist; however, I know he would be the first to say that he is a novice in this field.

It is pleasant to realize that our roots have been growing in this great land for eight generations; that we have been a part of the history of our country from the very earliest times; and that we, in a most modest way, have helped to make the "Heartland" of America one of the noblest examples of democracy where the fruits of our labors are shared with those who come from other lands to seek new homes for themselves and opportunities for their children. We have indeed a responsibility to those who will follow us. Our homes are secure and the good things of life abundant, a legacy we should be proud to use wisely and worthy to pass on to future generations.

THE NAME "SELBY"

A Name Span of 800 Years

The origin of the name "de Selbie" dates back to the early history of Western Europe, and is probably of Gallic origin. Gaul was the old name for France.

Somewhere about the period of 1000 A.D., explorers known as Northmen from Denmark, Norway, and Sweden, all of Germanic origin, invaded England and northern France, later known as Normandy. They conquered both countries and took over the governments. They mixed with the local people and remained permanent residents.

The name "de Selbie" first appeared in England about 1060 A.D. The prefix "de" still appears in some family names, such as de Bruyne, Dearmond, Delaval; a good example is in our own family. The maiden name of Eva Hinkle, wife of Elmer Hinkle, well-known broadcaster and entertainer, was de Mand. Her father's family came from Alsace in northern France.

In the year 1069 William the Conqueror founded and named Selbie Abbey in County York, some 175 miles north of London. The town of "Selby" grew up nearby this abbey.

One old Bible gives the name "Selbyville" as the birth place of Zachariah Selby. Records show that the Selbys coming to America in the 1700's were from this region about the town of Selby, or the middle eastern section of England.

These pioneers were largely of the "landed gentry" or "well-to-do" farmers, and land owners. This trait held true for the Selbys and kin folks of Butler, Montgomery, and Darke Counties in Ohio.

Records also show that many of these Maryland, Virginia, and Ohio Selbys carried given names the same as or very similar to ones used in or around County York in England. Old English names, such as Edward or Edgar, William, James, Zachariah, Oliver, George, John, Ralph, Robert, and others were common.

ZACHARIAH SELBY

1758 - 1841

Two Hundred and Four Years of Family History

Zachariah Selby was born in England on March 6, 1758, and died in Ohio, on July 14, 1841. No known records have been found giving any information about his people, or the exact place of his birth in England.

The connecting links between the early American families and their English parents and homes have been lost. Historians say that there is no doubt that these early American families came from York County or adjoining counties in England. No records were kept in Maryland or Virginia during the early Colonial period.

Some of the earlier writings of local history (Butler County) state that both Zachariah and Middleton were born in Holland which is not correct according to the most reliable information. Middleton Sr.'s children and grandchildren always said that Middleton, Sr., was born in Maryland. It is also recorded as the same place in family Bibles.

There is no knowledge of any "carry-over" of the Dutch language. It was common practice for emigrants to cross the English Channel and sail from a Dutch port which oftentimes meant a long delay before embarking for America.

There are several versions of Zachariah's coming to America; one that there were two brothers; another, three brothers. There are no authentic records as to how many brothers, but this list is interesting.

Zachariah Selby, 1758 - 1841, born in England

James Selby, 1760 - 1809, born in England

Nicholas Selby, 1750 - 1825, no record

At least, they were all brave pioneers.

Zachariah Selby was the son-in-law of Peter Caterow; wife's name not given.

Peter's parents came from Germany and settled on land owned by Charles Carroll, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. It was a tract of 10,000 acres known as Carrollton Manor, Frederick County. Peter was born here.

In 1802 Mrs. Caterow, her son Peter, her two daughters / and husbands (Zachariah Selby and Walter Cox) - six adults in all, moved to Butler County, Ohio, by wagons, driving the live stock with them. At times they had to stand guard all night to keep the bears away from the stock. Dishes were broken, so trays were carved from maple wood to replace them.

No mention is made of children, but Zachariah already had at least five of his own, our common great-grandfather, Middleton, Sr., being one of them.

They were nine weeks on the trip, arriving in Franklin, January, 1803. Mrs. Caterow rode horseback all the way. They were overtaken by snow storms, at times making only three miles in a day.

They bought land located some three miles south of Germantown near Brown's Run, and settled there during the spring of 1803. "Settled" is the proper word, since they made it their home for many years.

For several years we believed that Zachariah was the father or an uncle of Middleton Selby, Sr. Not until Ralph and Louise found his will did we know for certain that Zachariah was Middleton's father.

Virginia, Maryland, and Ohio names - William, James, Zachariah, Oliver, George, John, Ralph, Robert, Samuel, Charles, Mary, Susanna, Polly, and Sarah. (Check these names with the names in the families of Zachariah and Middleton.)

Montgomery County, Maryland, was formed from Frederick County in 1776. This caused some confusion as to their place of birth or residence.

The following version of "the bear in camp" on the trip to Ohio in 1802 was furnished by Mrs. Edith Mears of Miamisburg, Ohio. Insofar as records show, she is the only living grandchild of Middleton Selby, Sr. Tunis Selby was her father.

We wish her many more happy birthdays.

"The Selbys came with another family in a covered wagon. The women slept in the wagon, and the men slept outside on the ground with blankets by the fire. During the night, one of the children fussed, and the mother got up to take care for it. She saw a bear between the fire and the wagon. She called to the men, and they told her she was seeing things. The next morning, they saw bear prints in the snow where he had passed between the fire and the wagon."

MIDDLETON SELBY, SR.

Middleton Selby, son of Zachariah Selby and Mary Polly Caterow Selby, was born in Frederick County, Maryland, January 15, 1793 and died September 15, 1877, at the age of 84 years, 7 months, and 20 days.

No records have been found about his early life. He was ten years old when his family (Zachariah) moved to Ohio and settled on Brown's Run between Germantown and Middletown.

Middleton must have had a good elementary education which enabled him to teach school and even write his own textbooks. His homestead was on Brown's Run which in later years was owned by a Mr. Wilson. It is now owned by the Brown's Run Hunting Club. The house was built in 1828 from brick made nearby.

He was small of stature, serious in nature, and honest to the point of perfection. No improper language or bad stories were permitted about the place. He did not hesitate to correct any son or grandson at any time or anywhere. The above information came from a grandson.

Following family traditions, he was a good and loyal member of the Mount Pleasant Baptist Church north of Poastown. The last resting place of both Middleton and Rachel are near the church.

In addition to his interest in education, he was a Justice of the Peace for 24 years, and a township trustee for 16 years.

Sometime in the middle of the 1840's, Middleton purchased 206 acres of land in Monroe Township, southeastern Darke County approximately one and a half miles east of Gordon and two miles north of Verona. In 1848 the taxes on all of this land totaled $8.99. In 1853 the same tract was assessed for a value of $1563.00, and taxed for $18.65. Three of the children, Elizabeth Barklow, Tobias, and Middleton, Jr. lived on or owned the land at a later time. Following World War I one tract sold for $400.00 per acre. Middleton, Sr., had paid only $5.00 per acre for it.

He was very proud of a fine saddle horse which he rode from his home up to Darke County to visit the children.

*****

Grandfather Middleton died on a train between Miamisburg and West Middletown. He had been to visit each of the children, and John's in-laws, Catrows, in Miamisburg. They put him on the train in Miamisbrug. Peter Selby had a dairy and was hauling malt for his cattle and heard they were taking a dead man off the train as he was passing the depot. He asked someone who the man was, and the answer was, "Oh my gosh, Pete, it's your daddy!"

An attempt was made to copy the letter as written. Sentences were separated by a little longer space, without punctuation. Capital letters were used rather freely in the sentence structure. The symbol # was used instead of
"and" quite frequently. The Mr. Foltz was a close neighbor and father of Catharina, wife of Tobias Selby.

John is dead - Catharina's brother.

Rebecca - Middleton's daughter or Catharina's sister.

Susanna Shaeffer - Probably Susanna Foltz-Schaeffer, Catharina's sister.

John is quite low - His own son John.

Susannah Selby, his daughter, writes October 1, 1854.

"Henry Gebhart died last Wednesday."

"Jacob Temple's baby was buried."

"I am afflicted with a bad love pain - will be going into the state of matrimony in less than six months."

"and I will tell you of another wedding which may surprise you but you need not think that is humbugery for it is the positive fact, your brother John
'touch me not John' is going to get married in about 3 months."

RACHEL TEMPLE COON SELBY

Rachel Temple was born November 15, 1792 near Lexington, Kentucky, and died January 10, 1877. (Mount Pleasant, O.) She was married to Middleton Selby on November 14, 1816. To date, nothing is known about her family or early life. We like to believe that she was a close relative of Jacob Temple, husband of Zephaniah's daughter, Catherine Selby.

Her first husband was named ( ? ) Coon, who was killed in the War of 1812. She had two children by this union, a boy and a girl. On leaving for service in the army, Mr. Coon requested his friend, Middleton Selby, to look after Rachel if he failed to return. Middleton, being an honest man, lived up to his promise. This story was handed down by his children to the grandchildren. There are no reasons to give doubt to the event. Again we are reminded that Middleton Selby and Jacob Temple were "brothers-in-law." (There was a well-known family named Coon in eastern North Carolina.)

Rachel was a very pleasant woman, loved young people, and remained active during her entire lifetime.

She presented Middleton with 14 children, 13 of whom lived to full maturity. One died in infancy.

EXCERPTS FROM "HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS OF OHIO"

- Henry Howe -

Butler County, "The Garden of Ohio," 1840. A large portion of its population is of German descent. Hamilton was laid out on the 17th of December, 1794, within the Symme's purchase. One township was to be set aside for educational purposes, but Symmes failed to do this. The United States Government made him buy an equivalent amount of land west of the Miami River. This was the beginning of Miami University.

Previous to 1801 all the land west of the river was owned by the United States. The first land sale was held April, 1901, at Cincinnati.

Middletown was laid out in 1802 by Stephen Vail and James Sutton. In 1840 it contained 1 Presbyterian, 1 Baptist, and 1 Methodist Church, a classical academy, 16 stores, 1 grist mill, 1 woolen factory, and had 809 inhabitants.

THE FAMILY REPORTERS

The preparation of this booklet was a family project and in no way a commercial venture. We tried to make it more like a family letter to the present and future generations, telling them about the families of the past, their travels, achievements, and the part they played in the development of this great country of ours.

These families were the Selbys, Temples, Barkalows, Hinkles, Gebharts, Bankers, and the other pioneers settling in the lower Miami Valley.

Trying to collect names of people, dates, families, and their places in the community, was no easy job. Some mistakes and errors have been made, unavoidable of course, but we hope not many.

These volunteer members working at this task realized that time for doing it was running out, and the work needed to be completed in the near future. After several disappointments, one member wrote, "The trouble with this whole affair is that most of us are already dead."

It was like a chain reaction; big discoveries followed periods of gloom. Where did all the family names, dates, etc., come from? Where were they found? Cemeteries were checked, including records. Old Bibles were found and "dusted off." Libraries were sources of local history, also the genealogy of families. Courthouses were favorite places to find wills, deeds, tax receipts, marriage licenses, and estate documents.

WHO'S WHO OF THE REPORTERS

1. Mrs. Edna Carr, 131 Britton Lane, RR #3, Middletown, Ohio. (Grandmother - Mary Ann Selby Hinkle). Elmer and Edna are first cousins. In 1957 he said that she knew a lot about the Hinkles, Bankers, and Selbys, which was quite true. Edna furnished a large amount of information about the families, including Peter's. More later about that story.

Thanks, Edna, you have been very helpful.

2. Russell Barklow, RR 3rd Arcanum, Ohio. (Residence east of Gordon)

Grandmother - Elizabeth Selby Barklow. In '58 he collected, with the help of Ivy Collins, a first cousin, a list of all the Middleton Selby children with the dates of their birth. This was a first of its kind giving order of birth. After a long search he found the family Bible of Middleton, Jr., which was quite helpful. I have known Russell all his life. He was never afraid of work and did a good job helping with this project.

Thanks very much.

3. Ralph and Louise (Esterline) Selby, 3113 La Rue Lane, Kettering 29, Ohio.

(Peter - Frank - Earl). Due to a mixup in mail delivery, Ralph's father Earl with a cousin Earl Selby, an acquaintance, was made. Ralph and Louise had been working on the Selby history for some time but could get no farther than Peter, son of Middleton, Sr. A request for help came from them in November '61, together with a large amount of information which they had collected. As told before, Edna had furnished a list of Peter's family. This, in many ways, unlocked the family relationship of the Selbys, Hinkles, Bankers, and related kin folks. They found the wills of both Zachariah and Middleton, Sr.

Ralph and Louise are still young.

Thanks and much luck to "you all," as we say it down South.

4. Lowell B. Selby, 1533 Cecilia Street, Coral Gables, Florida. (Tobias and Edgar). Lowell is taking care of the reproduction of pictures, the duplicating, and other things needed to put all of this material in booklet form. Without his doing this, we would have faced some financial difficulty.

Good boy!

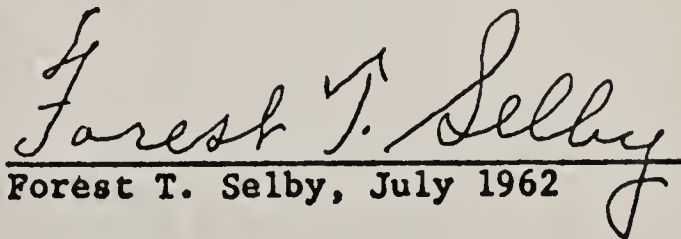

5. Forest T. Selby, 200 South Laurel Avenue, Charlotte 7, North Carolina.

Lowell's oldest brother and oldest of the above group.

I had the privilege and pleasure of meeting in person four of Middleton, Sr.'s children - Elizabeth, Tobias (my grandfather), Middleton, Jr., and Zephaniah, also according to count, some 24 of his grandchildren. Most of the information I had came from above relatives and documents of various kinds, many dating back to the early 1800's.

I am unable to express by means of words the thanks and appreciation due the folks named above for their wonderful help and kindness which they have given and shown during past years.

The Road of Memories

We travel the road of memories
as the years toll the bell,
A road well-worn with footsteps, and with stories we love to tell.

This road of life continues as our yesterdays appear,
With their memories much brighter
as the final days draw near.

Our memories are jewels in life's ageless crown,
Bringing smiles to lonesome hours as the clock of life runs down.

The Family of Catharina Foltz - Selby

Wife of Tobias Selby. Other than the information given about Catharina Foltz, most of the following records of the Foltz family have been supplied by Miss Ruth Apple (Frank - Kate Apple - Elizabeth Lindemuth) and the information given in the will of Rebecca Foltz - Beachler.

John Phillip Foltz. 1786 - 1851.

w. Catharina Schaeffer - Foltz. 1793 - 1881.

He was of German ancestry, embarked from Amsterdam, Holland, landed at Baltimore, Maryland. He moved to Frederick County, Maryland when he was 21 years of age. In August 1812 he became a citizen of the United States. It is interesting to note that he paid $72.00 for his passage besides working for his board, clothes, etc. There is no record of the date when they moved to Ohio, but Catharina was born in Maryland. (See her birth certificate record at end of this study.)

The Foltz homestead was on Brown's Run near that of Middleton Selby.
